DEATH OF U. S. FULLER

On Wednesday night, May 19, the death angel claimed for its own our beloved father and grandfather, Mr. U. S. Fuller. He suffered with Paralysis for months, finally becoming helpless and unable to speak. Dr. F. T. Johnson was unflinching in his efforts to improve his condition, but all to no avail, he grew steadily worse, until God called him home. Children and friends did all loving hearts and hands could do, but now his afflictions are over and he is resting in Jesus Arms.

His wife preceded him to the grave four years and six months. He was a known throughout Pike and Coffee Counties, where he has lived practically all his life of 79 years. He numbered his friends by the score, and was a great counselor for younger folks than himself.

Funeral services were conducted Thursday P. M. at St. Johns Church by Rev. W. Stewart, assisted by Rev. J. E. Johnson. Afterward his remains were laid to rest in the family burial lot at St. Johns Cemetery, beneath a bower of beautiful roses.

He had been a faithful and constant member of St. Johns Baptist Church, clerk for about twenty years. He leaves eleven children, 43 grand-children and 15 great-grand-children to his sorrow.

His children are namely: W. O. Fuller, Mesdames Henry Dubose and Bud Clark, of Graceland, Fla.; U. J. Fuller, of Coffee Springs, Ala.; J. W. and A. G. Fuller of Presco, Mesdames Elma and Lee Whitaker of Rockton, Route 2, Mesdames J. P. Helms and M. L. Tillman of Chestnut Grove.

Weep not dear children for we long we shall all be reunited around God's throne, where we shall praise Him eternally for He says in St. John, "I go to prepare a place for you, that where I am there ye may be also."

O, it is so lonesome without grandfather, his place by the dead old fireside is vacant and can never be filled. His smile will never be forgotten and may we all be prepared to meet him some glad day.

JUDGE CARNLEY GIVES SOME INTERESTING FIGURES ON ALABAMA BOND ISSUES FOR THE PAST ONE HUNDRED YEARS

Alabama laid the cornerstone of her bonded indebtedness by issuance of bonds to finance the old State Bank which was incorporated in 1825. The sum of $15,040,000 for this purpose was authorized and of this amount $10,959,566 was sold between 1825 and 1837. This was a memorable year in the history of the United States owing to financial disasters which extended over the entire country. When the crash of 1837 came farmers were not able to pay the merchants, but farmers and merchants could not pay the banks. In order to relieve the financial stress, Governor Clay advised a special session of the legislature, and it authorized the issue of $5,000,000 additional bonds for the relief of the bank and the benefit of the people. At this time the State Bank had been established at Montgomery, Mobile, Decatur and Huntsville. The mother bank was at Tuscaloosa, then the capital of the state.

By 1841 the bonded indebtedness of the State had reached the sum of $14,000,000. From 1837 to 1842 the state bank currency was depreciated to fifty cents on the dollar, when offered in exchange for specie. The interest on the state debt was paid by the purchase of cotton. The people had become disgusted with the State Bank.

Governor Fitzpatrick and members of the General Assembly of 1842-43 were elected upon a platform of reform. Measures should be immediately enforced to correct the pernicious State Bank system. John A. Campbell, later Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, was a member from Mobile and was made chairman of the committee of banking and currency. After making a thorough investigation, he made a luminous report, showing up their rottenness, and the result was that these banks were placed in liquidation, and a year later the entire State Bank at Tuscaloosa was likewise disposed of. The assets of these banks were applied in reduction of the bonded debt in 1845, which was scaled down and reduced to $3,145,000 by the year of 1860.

War Debt Added
To this balance of bonded debt which remained after the liquidation of the State Bank system was added the war debt in the sum of $13,049,732, making a total public indebtedness on May 24, 1865 of $16,439,732. The war debts were repudiated after the war, being declared null and void. The $3,145,000 of the wild-cat scheme remained a binding obligation, and has never been paid to this day, except by issuance of more refunding bonds.

Reconstruction Period
The bonded debt in 1866 was $4,065,110. The carpet-bag rule during the reconstruction period increased the bonded debt to $30,037,563 by 1874. This was due to the issuance of railroad bonds in large sums, many of which were of fraudulent issue, and the railroad defaulted and left the State to pay the interest on these bonds. In 1875 a Public Debt Commission was appointed and the public debt, then $32,000,000, was adjusted, not paid. On account of the exposure of frauds, interest was refused to be paid and creditors compromised and reduced to $5,357,000. This was the amount paid in interest during the administration of Gov. George S. Houston, and the Constitutional Convention of 1875 provided for the payment of the power of the State to contract loans. For 45 years no further increase was made of the State bonded debt. The Constitution of 1901 likewise prohibited the issuance of bonds, but authorized temporary loans not to exceed $300,000.

The old bonded debt of the State brought over from the State Bank and the Railroad bonds in the total sum of $9,357,600 in 1875 has never been paid off. The total balance of these bonds on Oct. 1, 1925 (Auditor's Report of 1925, P. 30) is $8,557,000, and the interest paid by the State in 1925 was $339,720.00. It thus appears that during fifty years only $800,000 of the principal of these old bonds have been paid, and it will be remembered that $3,145,000 of this bonded debt has been extant for one hundred years. This is the Alabama that the State Bank bonded debt was the "cornerstone" of the present debt of Alabama.

Next Highway And Port Bonds
For a period of forty-five years from 1875 no further bonds were authorized. In 1920 a constitutional amendment was adopted authorizing the issuance of $25,000,000 for roads and bridges, and later $10,000,000 was authorized by another amendment for the development of Mobile Port. These bonds added to the old bonded debt of $8,557,000 make a total of $33,557,000. This is the present bonded debt or will be as soon as all are sold.

Proposed Now To Issue $75,000,000 More
Shall the people of Alabama increase her bonded debt by $75,000,000 more? This proposition is now before the people of Alabama and they are to be asked to vote on it. The results to the citizens and taxpayers of the future. The undivided of the measure may be judged by those to come after it. It behooves every fair-minded man and woman to decide this vital question. The way that will redound to well being of our children and posterity.

Alabama Pays Big Interest
Alabama has been paying big interest. The interest paid on the old bonded debt in 1924 was the same paid in 1925, namely, $339,720.00. Besides the stupendous sum paid on the one hundred years part of this has run, (Old State Bank) renewal class A, and C bonds will run again to 1956 and the rest to Jan. 1, 1950, and Alabama will pay in fifty years $16,984,000 in interest alone when the bonds will perhaps be extended for another period. I am unable to calculate the entire interest paid during the hundred years of their history, but it is safe to say that many times more than the bonds themselves. The Auditor's report for the year ending September 30, 1924, showed a balance due on this old bonded debt of $8,557,000, and the same figures are shown on September 30, 1925, none at all being paid.

Interest And Sinking Fund
By an Act of the Legislature, approved Oct. 31, 1921, it is provided that out of the motor tag taxes a sinking fund be provided for the retirement of the bonds when due, and for the expenses of the Highway Department, and according to the report of the Highway Commission for the year ending Oct. 1, 1925, this total sinking fund is $1,328,071.75 while the interest was $1,682,341.41. It will be seen that according to this report there is not much difference in the amount paid in interest and the amount necessary to retire the bonds and pay the expenses of the Highway Department. The two amounts added will make twice the sum received from the motor tag taxes, and we do not get over 50 cents in the dollar of bond money in roads.

On a pay-as-you-go plan, we would get the benefits of what now goes to interest payments. The items of expenses is important. The Highway report for the year ending on Oct. 1, 1925, shows $372,933.14 for the year.

Decide Now To Plant More Vetch This Fall, Says County Agent

We invite every farmer to notice corn fields after vetch, and if you like their looks send me word how many acres you expect to sow this fall.

Three dollars worth of vetch seed will add $12.00 to $15.00 worth of nitrate per acre and give pasture during the winter. We have just received some corn from new farmers, and give vetch last year, W. W. Moody, near Basin School Elba, Ala., says, "I want good for my corn this fall. Our good friend Billy Dubose of Tabernacle writes for seed to plant in corn in vetch and about 1000 acres will be sown. Mr. Metcalf who has a fine cotton field after vetch writes for us to get him seed to plant 75 acres this fall. Mr. Metcalf has 500 acres last fall with great success.

The continuing to grow vetch in a few years our lands will produce 50 to 75 bushels of corn per acre without vetch. The fertilizer bill for corn alone in Coffee County this year will amount to over $100,000 which could be saved by planting vetch with corn. Vetch would have added a million dollars worth of nitrate to those 75,000 acres planted to corn in Coffee County this year and instead of averaging 15 bushels of corn per acre without vetch, we would easily have doubled this yield without one pound of fertilizer. Let's everybody plant at least 10 acres to vetch next year and produce 500 bushels of corn on this 10 acres in 1927.

ask the fellow who planted vetch last year which he thinks is best. The vetch was sown by Mr. D. C. Baird showed the lovely and esteem in which Miss Ham is held.

Throughout the evening hours, Mesdames Russ, Powell, and Rowe, entertained by playing piano, saxophone and the voice of several vocal soloists and duets.

Mrs. Wright wore on this occasion a beautiful gown of grey crepe, in tones of coral green, and orchid. She wore a wrist bracelet of white pearls, interspersed with pearls as did all those composing the receiving line. Miss Lurline Ham, the bride-elect, was exquisitely gowned in a creation of beaded chiffon in pastel shades. She wore a large velvet hat, but and other accessories to match. Miss Giedde Rowe, sister of the groom, was lovely in dress of white and gold. Troy, aunt of the bride, wore blue flat crepe beaded and large coral hat. Miss Gene Brock was dainty in a pink net dress made of tulle and trimmed with silver.

About 100 guests called between the hours of 4:30 and 6:30.

Work Has Already Been Started On Paving For Square; Streets Rough

Ground has been broken for the Square paving at Elba. This announcement will be received with interest by citizens of Elba and this section of the county, and those who have been behind the movement to now see their desires fulfilled.

A large crew with a tractor, scrapers, trucks, etc., reached Elba Monday afternoon and started breaking up the streets and moving the dirt. Just as the excavating work is finished, the contractor plans to start the paving work.

In the meantime our streets will be muddy and sloppy, especially if the rains come, but we can anticipate the real paving work will later come and can put up with most anything now. We are glad the work is started and will be glad when it is completed. Elba needs more paved streets, in order that she not be called upon. The boys want all candidates who are coming to make it known as to whether or not they care to speak. An invitation is being sent to all the state candidates, but for fear some of them will go astray this is an invitation to you to come to Elba on the 25th. Everybody is invited, and we would like for all public spirited men to be with us. If you have a friend for whom you are working, then come to Elba on the 25th as you will have plenty of material to work on throughout the entire day. No one man can see all the voters who will be invited to work on the 25th. It is very likely that there will be hundreds of voters from the adjoining counties, it is not all impossible for us to have 5000 voters on the ground during the day.

As soon as all candidates are heard from, a program will be arranged and published in the Elba Clipper, to inform the public as to the exact time each man is to speak. The meeting will last from 9 o'clock in the morning until 6 o'clock in the P. M.

This will give time for everybody to say something during the day, and this crowd of voters will be sufficient to give each speaker plenty of hearers. The voters will want to hear many of the candidates, but it is the personal contact that they are after. We want a chance to shake hands with the various candidates and look them straight in the eye. When we do this, then we can select our man. Many and useful efforts have been made, and unless he has a good excuse for not coming it will probably be against the man who fails to come.

There will not be a public dinner served. The local Post feels that it would not be best, as the crowd will be entirely too large for one table. However, there will be plenty to eat. The various organizations of the town who make a practice of serving meals, will be ready to serve the crowd at a very moderate price. Some will serve barbecue, some chicken dinners, some vegetable dinners and others will serve various kinds of sandwiches. The local scouts will assist in managing the crowd and the mayor of the town has very kindly consented to turn the town over to the Legion for the day.

There will also be amusements for the day, such as boxing, music, etc., however, this has not yet been arranged as we must make out a program such that the candidates can have the entire day. A special invitation is extended to every ex-serviceman in the county and in this section of the county. It is requested to register and will be given a badge, however, there will not be any parade or other work done by these boys.

"Candidates Day" Will Be Sponsored Here By American Legion Post

Culver Post of the American Legion, located at Elba, Alabama, extending an invitation to all state candidates to be in Elba on July 29th for the purpose of letting the voters of the county see them.

Most of the voters in the rural districts never have a chance to meet the State Candidates, and many of them are at a loss on the day of the election in selecting a man for the various places. Every voter in Coffee County will be urged to come to Elba on that day, and we would like at least 5000 present. All voters in the state are invited but special effort will be made to get the Coffee County men out, as we want to do so, will have chance to address the crowd, and those who do not care to speak will not be called upon. IN MEMORY OF MRS. MARY C. MARTIN

On April 27th, at 10 o'clock the Death Angel visited the home of Mrs. Mary C. Martin, and took the gentle spirit to her eternal home. Her health had not been very good for some time. She became sick of "flu" and pneumonia about four months ago which caused a lingering illness until her death.

During her illness she was lovingly ministered to by her children. They did everything they could to make her comfortable and happy. Mrs. Martin was born in Barbour County, Ala., August 12, 1858, and moved with her parents when only one year of age to Coffee County, where she resided until her death. She was prior to her marriage Miss Mary Watson. She was married to C. O. H. Martin Nov. 3, 1887, who preceded her to the grave about three years ago. She is survived by four children, Misses Nannie Mary and Flossie, and sons J. J. Martin, a former Elba, Ala., and C. S. Martin of Bay, Ala., and one sister, Mrs. New Bryan. The remains were tenderly laid to rest at Bluff Springs on Wednesday, April 28. She had been a consistent member of the Baptist church there for a number of years. Rev. C. O. Helms conducted the funeral services. Many beautiful floral offerings brought messages of love and sympathy. "There's a vacant place in that home."

Which never can be filled; The sweetest voice on earth to them; Is forever hushed and stilled. Through all pain in life she'd smile. A smile of heavenly birth. And when the angel called her home, She smiled farewell to earth. Heaven smiled forth now their treasure. Earth the lonely Casket keeps. And the sunbeams long to linger. Where their sainted mother sleeps. A friend.

ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING FOR LAST NIGHT TO BOOST LOCAL MAN FOR CONGRESSMAN FROM THIRD DISTRICT

Filled to its capacity the Rotary Club rooms of the City Auditorium was the scene Friday night, June 19, of one of the most enthusiastic political meetings witnessed in this city in a number of years.
